The College's primary purpose is the intellectual development of persons through the maintenance of the highest standards of academic excellence and educational growth.

The College of New Rochelle was founded in 1904 by the Ursuline Order as the first Catholic college for women in New York State. Today, the College serves a student population of more than 5,000 students. In addition to the School of Arts and Sciences, which remains all-women, the College has three co-educational schools: the Graduate School, established in 1969; the School of New Resources, in 1972; and the School of Nursing, in 1976. The College's main campus is in New Rochelle, with five branch campuses of the School of New Resources located throughout the New York metropolitan area.

The College offers strong reasons for seeking private support. The importance of the life of the spirit and a reverence for the individual are hallmarks of an Ursuline value-based education. These characteristics are manifest in a College of New Rochelle education today. The College's primary purpose is the intellectual development of persons through the maintenance of the highest standards of academic excellence and educational growth. From this tradition, the College derives its dedication to the education of women and men in the liberal arts and in professional studies. The College reaches out to those who have not previously had access to higher education and places particular emphasis on the concept of lifelong learning.

Private support allows the College to build upon its commitment and mission as an educational institution by providing academic scholarships, grants, financial aid, and technology enhancements. Similarly, funding is needed for physical plant renovations, special programs, and curriculum development.

Gifts to the College include cash, appreciated securities, capital donations, real estate, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, endowed funds, and bequests.

When The College of New Rochelle is included in estate plans through a planned gift or a bequest, thoughtful donors reduce their taxes, protect their assets, and generate income. By reaching beyond their own lives to assure opportunities for future generations, generous donors shape the future and make a critical difference in the College's ability to fulfill its mission.

DEAR MEMBERS OF THE COLLEGE FAMILY,

My annual report to the College Community is one way for me to pause, reflect, and make available to the entire College Community an accounting of our health as an institution, and to make you aware of the changes, challenges, and opportunities anticipated by the College in the coming year.

As College, we continue to find our educational “center” in the College’s core elements: commitment to the education of women, honoring of rich Catholic intellectual heritage, and the primacy of the liberal arts in a community composed of diverse students who are being educated for service and professional careers.

As we know, the past 18 months have been economically challenging to families, to careers and employment, and to institutions of every size and purpose, from banks to bakeries, from Boston to Berkeley. It has been one of the most economically challenging periods in our history, rivaling the Great Depression.

The global recession has had an impact on all segments of society. Colleges and universities were not immune. In fact, as an industry, higher education has been hit harder than others given the collision of real estate, credit and equity markets, that created what has been defined as the perfect storm. Unlike some other well known schools, The College of New Rochelle was prepared to handle the financial crisis.

While challenges do still confront us, we are not unduly concerned.

FINANCIAL HORIZONS

Many of you have read about noted academic institutions in serious financial peril. That is not the case at CNR. But before reviewing the recent tumultuous times the U.S. economy experienced—the worst financial situation in 75 years—let me first quote from a report I received in late August 2009 from Moody’s Investors Service addressing CNR’s financial health.

As many of you know, Moody’s Investors Service performs financial research and analysis on corporations, banks, and educational institutions. The company ranks the credit-worthiness, for example, of borrowers using a standardized ratings scale.

Last August, Moody’s again affirmed that the long-term outlook of CNR remains stable, that our College has “strong financial and operational management oversight” and that our “flexible financial base and liquidity of investments allow the College to adapt quickly to changing economic and student market conditions.” They summed up their report by saying that positive investment results for the College were because of “conservative investment allocation.”

A TEACHING MOMENT

While we have weathered the storm and are safely on the side of recovery, we had, as is said in the current vernacular, “a teaching moment.” Why was The College of New Rochelle able to weather this “perfect storm” of financial turmoil that affected so many other institutions? It is obvious, in hindsight, that the lack of liquidity sent our financial institutions and investment firms into a tailspin. It drove banks into insolvency and giant corporations to Chapter 11.

Educational institutions were forced to increase institutional funded financial aid and limit increases in tuitions and fees both to enable students to remain in school and attract students. To achieve this, administrations had to freeze salaries and lay off faculty and staff as endowments shrank, contributions decreased, and state and federal funding evaporated.

Many of us might ask the question, a question which certainly has been asked around the world: “How can this happen in a country where so much intelligence and information exist?”

The financial culprit appears to have been the way endowment funds are used by colleges and universities. Propelled by “irrational exuberance,” favorable tax laws, and a propensity by Americans to give to higher education, many U.S. colleges and universities had significant endowment growth over the past seven years. While most colleges and universities follow the traditional practice of using only the earnings on the invested funds (typically five percent) for operational or one-time strategic purposes, that amount of money can be, as in private institutions like Harvard University, vast.

These institutions were “used to” depending on, some to a significant extent, large endowment earnings funding annual operations. Going into this recession, endowment earnings represented as much as forty-five percent of some institutional operating budgets. Additionally, with substantial money being contributed to some colleges and universities, these funds were placed in non-traditional and alternative investments, such as hedge funds. What happened to this endowment stream of revenue when there was a rapid decline of income? The funds evaporated, dried up, so to speak, like a riverbed during a summer drought.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY AT CNR
Admittedly, CNR doesn’t have the vast endowment of a Harvard or a Wellesley, and that presents its own challenges. However, the College has a wise and thoughtful Board of Trustees who exercised due diligence. Only two percent of the operating budget is derived from endowment earnings, and that is all that is used to support operations. Spending in a limited manner for operational purposes, and investing only in secure investments, maintained the financial integrity of the College.

Some schools with huge endowments invested in hedge funds and other risky financial instruments suddenly experienced in late 2008 a contracting of the global markets, saw the mortgage market falter, and watched helplessly as banks, financial institutions, and companies closed.

In November 2008 and March 2009, the stock market endured two cataclysmic sell-offs causing business and government leaders to worry about potential systemic collapse.

Our government, and others, responded with economic stimulus packages, spending that now appears to have stabilized the marketplace and reassured the general public. That said, we have not yet turned the tide on employment or eased the housing mortgage crisis.

We are pleased with Moody’s commendation, and we achieved this financial stability because we made prudent decisions. We did it by fiscally conservative practices. We did not seek the quick profit at the expense of our financial health or your charitable contributions. We remained stable in the midst of this significant national financial decline.

STABILITY AND GROWTH IN AN IMPROVING ECONOMY
Moody’s, as well as other academic advisors, have noted that CNR’s “unique urban niche, serving a diverse student market through a variety of program offerings and structures...buffers the College from the effect of volatility of demand in any given market segment.”

Our diverse undergraduate and graduate academic programs, across four Schools and six campuses, provide equilibrium when enrollment challenges follow an economic downturn.
For thirty years the College has operated in the black. To achieve this, we depend on student enrollment and tuition. We attract students by keeping our tuition competitively affordable which impacts both recruitment and retention.

Our mandate is always to continue to balance our budget. For thirty years the College has operated in the black. To achieve this, we depend on student enrollment and tuition. We attract students by keeping our tuition competitively affordable which impacts both recruitment and retention.

Fortunately, our students benefit considerably from CNR’s status in the Federal Direct Lending Program. We issue federal Stafford loans directly to them on behalf of the United States government. CNR students do not have to look to financial institutions to secure their college loans, so they have not been adversely affected by the disruption in these markets. Loans for our students are more easily accessible and provided at a fixed rate.

Securing funding for “unmet needs”—books, transportation, and living expenses—is a bigger challenge. Students rely on financial aid, scholarships, jobs on and off campus, and private loans. We have experienced an increased number of requests for additional financial aid from them because of job layoffs—theirs or their parents—and a much more constrained loan market. This has a significant impact on student retention, as you can imagine.

The Stratford Advisory Group recently stated that stocks “continued their upward trajectory in September, marking a seventh straight month of gains.” All of this bodes well for CNR and its investment strategies. Our solid, stock investments have benefited from the rebound of the market.

We are not, of course, out of the woods. We know that 70 percent of the U.S. economy depends on consumer spending. And consumers still face considerable headwinds with rising unemployment, a lack of accessible credit, declining wages, and the psychological effect of the loss of net worth experienced as a result of the fall in global equity and real estate values. Creating jobs and stabilizing home prices will be vital to restoring consumer health.
We are committed to an enrollment in all of the Schools of the College that will stabilize and grow in the coming years. We are initiating new programs and policies to attract students; we are supporting them in their academic careers; and we are seeing that they successfully graduate from The College of New Rochelle.

That said, the consensus from our banks and advisors is that the worst of this economic downturn is behind us and that we will begin to see positive economic signs over the course of the next two quarters.

I recently read an analysis of what the 2010 census will show in a study done by Peter Francese, a demographic trends analyst at Oglivy & Mather. He sees four major trends emerging in 2010.

The first trend is what he calls “the absolute rocketing ascendancy of women in America.” He predicts that within six months to a year women will comprise the majority of the workforce. The 2009 report by the Census Bureau also shows that, for the first time ever, more women had graduated from college than men. As a college that traditionally has taught from a women’s perspective, we are well placed to continue to attract women to CNR in the upcoming years and decades.

We are avoiding—as we have historically—quick-fix responses. We continue to manage our investments for the long term. Having invested wisely, we benefit when the stock market improves. We are committed to an enrollment in all of the Schools of the College that will stabilize and grow in the coming years. We are initiating new programs and policies to attract students; we are supporting them in their academic careers; and we are seeing that they successfully graduate from The College of New Rochelle. We are 106 years in the business of transforming lives, and we continue to purposefully expand our legacy and strengthen our mission.

GRATITUDE FOR YOUR PARTNERSHIP WITH CNR

We have come through two of the most difficult years since the Great Depression. Your support during this time is even more meaningful and significant than ever. Many of you not only stayed the course with us, but stepped up your giving to be included in our new gift societies or to participate in the Trustees Challenge. How grateful I am to our Board of Trustees for providing the Challenge, and to you for responding! Together, an additional quarter million dollars was raised last year for student financial aid.

It is also important to note that in our first year of the new Partners for Excellence donor recognition program, 222 members contributed $1,500 (new President’s Circle membership level) or more, vs. 178 a year ago. The success of this program is heartening in a year as challenging as 2009.

The general consensus is that the turnaround in the economy will be longer and slower—and last through much of calendar year 2010. We will continue to involve the Board of Trustees in our pursuit of new funding, as we strive to broaden the scope of corporate and foundation funding opportunities.

We will market our planned giving program and communicate with our constituencies via e-mail and our online community (mycnr.com). An army of 400 volunteers from all four Schools will help us expand and enhance programming and events, communication, and participation in the Annual Fund. We will need every one of them, and we will need you, too.

The challenges we face are eased by the magnitude of your support. With profound gratitude, I acknowledge how essential you are to us. Your ongoing support has made—and will continue to make—all the difference.

Sincerely,

Stephen J. Sweeny, Ph.D.
President
The Year in Review...

- New CNR students starting at the School of Arts & Sciences and School of Nursing attend two-day Summer Orientation on the Main Campus. They register for classes, complete health forms, finish their housing application forms, and meet faculty, staff, and other new students.

- Adrienne Wald, Director, Wellness Education & Programming, receives national certification as a Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) from the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing.

- Valerie Salmier SNR’73, Senior Vice President and Publisher of Harper’s Bazaar, hosts the second CNR Women’s Networking Breakfast Forum at the Hearst Tower in New York City.

- The Castle Gallery opens its fall exhibition Beyond Bio: Clay Bodies. The exhibition is part of Clay Art Center’s All Fired Up: A Celebration of Clay in Westchester County.

- As the fall semester gets underway, Campus Ministry coordinates the first in a series of Monthly Service Events for the College Community. Staff and students facilitate Casino Night at United Hebrew Geriatric Center on Pelham Road, spending time with the residents playing Blackjack, Horseracing, and Roulette.

- The National Psychological Association for Psychoanalysis features Dr. Robert Wolf, an Art Studio Professor in the Graduate School, in their quarterly newsletter. The article describes Professor Wolf as a diverse professional who is an internationally known fine art photographer and sculptor.

- Students, faculty, and staff fill Romita Auditorium on an October afternoon to hear author Immaculée Ilbıgiza, who survived the Rwandan holocaust of 1994 and later wrote Left To Tell: Discovering God Amidst the Rwandan Holocaust.
Martha Counihan, OSU, Associate Professor of the Library/Archivist, publishes “Simeon Leland, Merchant Prince, and His Splendid Castle” in the winter 2008 issue of The Westchester Historian. The article is about Simeon Leland, a Vermont native who came to NYC in the 1830’s with his brothers and became well known for innovations in creating successful and “modern” hotels.
Alumnae/i and students travel to NYC to see the Tony Award-winning production of In The Heights, starring CNR’s own Doreen Montalvo SAS’85.

In celebration of Italian Heritage Month, the College hosts a return visit of the Bersaglieri, a marching band visiting from Abruzzi, Italy.

The Co-op City Campus sponsors the Labyrinth Prayer Walk, a unique prayer experience. A labyrinth is a marked path on the floor on which people may walk in a slow, contemplative manner for prayer and reflection.

Dr. Teri Kwal Gamble, Professor of Communication Studies in the Graduate School, speaks to the College Community on “The Media Generation,” at the annual Fall Town Meeting in November. During her talk, she describes the attitudes, abilities, and outlook of today’s college age students.

The College celebrates Founder’s Day on October 22. At a luncheon, the College Community gathers to honor four students for their community service with Serviam awards. That evening New York Times religion correspondent Peter Steinfels (pictured with CNR President Stephen Sweeny and Vice President for Mission & Identity Joan Bailey) speaks on the moral and social justice considerations in the upcoming presidential election.

The work of photographer Toni Parks, daughter of legendary artist Gordon Parks, is displayed in “Images of Life,” an exhibit at the Gordon Parks Gallery at the John Cardinal O’Connor Campus.

Dr. Maxine Greene, founder of the Maxine Greene Foundation for Social Imagination, the Arts, and Education, addresses students and faculty.

Dr. Diane Quandt, Associate Professor of Education, and Dr. Faith Kostel-Hughes, Associate Professor of Biology and Director of the Environmental Studies Program, both of the School of Arts & Sciences, co-teach an interdisciplinary course “Environmental Studies of the Hudson Valley.” Students attend classes on campus, as well as a day-long field trip to Black Rock Forest in Cornwall, NY.

The Veronica O’Day Leadership Award by Sigma Theta Tau, the National Honor Society in Nursing is presented to Lisa Gressett for her participation in The Nurses’ Network program, Project CHILDD. Lisa is a registered nurse earning a bachelor’s degree at CNR. Project CHILDD is a monthly program held at the Pelham Art Center for children with developmental disabilities.

That evening New York Times religion correspondent Peter Steinfels (pictured with CNR President Stephen Sweeny and Vice President for Mission & Identity Joan Bailey) speaks on the moral and social justice considerations in the upcoming presidential election.

Students, faculty and staff of CNR stage a “Sleep Out” in support of the homeless.
Dr. Walter Sullivan, Associate Professor of Educational Leadership in the Graduate School, is appointed by the Board of Regents to serve on the New York State Panel to Revise Learning Standards.

CNR students take time out to send Christmas cards to U.S. Troops.

Dr. Barbara F. McManus, Professor Emerita of Classics, receives the Distinguished Service Award from the American Philological Association at the plenary session of their annual meeting held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Dr. McManus is cited for her “generosity, vision, commitment, and numerous important contributions throughout her career.”

Deborah Hunt, Instructor in the School of Nursing, is appointed by Adolfo Carrion, Borough President of the Bronx, to serve as a member of Community Board #10. She also serves as a member of the Health and Human Services Committee to promote health and wellness in the community.

CNR students travel to Albany in February and join over 1,000 students from more than 70 colleges and universities to meet with lawmakers to seek restoration of student and institutional aid programs.

Dr. Amy Bass, Associate Professor History and Director of the SAS Honors Program, publishes “Exploring the Wide World of Sports: Taking a Class to the (Virtual) Olympics” in Teaching American History.
As part of the AngelaFest celebration, CNR President Stephen J. Sweeny presents certificates to four students who are the 2009 recipients of the Student Service Recognition Program. This program is a national award sponsored by Ursuline Educational Services.

The College of New Rochelle School of Nursing presents its Third Annual Wellness Lecture and Panel Discussion. Holistic nursing pioneer and noted author Barbara Dossey, Ph.D., RN, AHN-BC, FAAN, delivers the keynote address, “Integral Nursing: Healing Body, Mind, Spirit.”

The CNR Gospel Choir sings at St. Patrick’s Cathedral to celebrate Black History Month.

The College of New Rochelle is honored for its commitment to environmental health by the New York League of Conservation Voters (NYLCV). CNR is one of five colleges in Westchester County presented with the League’s 2009 Environmental Champion Award for efforts to expand environmental education and “green” their campuses.
Hundreds gather at the College to bid a final farewell to Sr. Dorothy Ann Kelly, OSU, 11th President of the College and Provincial Superior of the Ursulines of the Eastern Province. Among those in attendance are the Prioress General of the Ursulines Cecilia Wang, who came from Rome for the funeral Mass, as well as the Provincial Superiors of the Central and Western Provinces, dozens of Ursuline sisters, local dignitaries, including Westchester County Executive Andy Spano and New Rochelle Mayor Noam Bramson, numerous members of the College of New Rochelle Community, family, and friends. “She touched thousands of lives,” says CNR President Stephen J. Sweeny. “She took the legacy of the Ursulines and the College and moved it to new heights in her presidency. Many of us called her our second foundress.”

The Verizon Foundation presents a two-year, $50,000 grant to the College’s School of Nursing for a telenursing pilot program.

Dr. Joan Bailey of the Office of Mission & Identity and Student Services personnel members of the Consortium of Lower Hudson Valley Catholic Colleges meet at CNR to discuss how Catholic institutions educate students about their Catholic identity and how their Catholicity is embedded in their practices.

Several Dutch nurse practitioner students are officially welcomed to CNR by School of Nursing Dean Mary Alice Donius, who speaks to the group about the future of healthcare in America. This is the third trip for the NP students from the Netherlands to study Advanced Practice nursing education, regulation, and practice in New York State.

The second annual Sonia Kovalevsky High School Mathematics Day for Girls at CNR sponsored by Con Edison draws students and teachers from six local high schools to participate in math and science problem solving contests and hear a career panel. Mathematics Days for High School Girls are intended to encourage young women to continue their study of mathematics as they move from high school to college. This day is named in honor of Sonia Kovalevsky, a widely known Russian mathematician of the late 19th century who was a distinguished writer and advocate for women’s rights.

CNR Plunge participants spend their Plunge week in March refurbishing two homes damaged by winds and 10 feet of floodwaters in New Orleans. The students work with the St. Bernard Project, a New Orleans organization that is coordinating the rebuilding of homes damaged by Hurricane Katrina.
The School of New Resources DC-37 Campus launches the Second Distinguished Adjunct Faculty’s Tertulia/Round-table Series in March. Students and faculty explore the growing impact the world’s great religions on culture, politics, and society.

On Good Friday, The College of New Rochelle participates in New York City’s 27th consecutive Good Friday Way of the Cross.

The Co-op City Campus holds an African “Rite of Passage” event.

Megan Showell SAS’09, a major in Chemistry and Mathematics, and the fourth generation in her family to graduate from CNR, presents her paper, “The Freedom of Invisibility: Merleau-Ponty and Ellison’s Invisible Man,” at the Fifth Annual New England Undergraduate Philosophy Conference at Providence College in Rhode Island.

SAS Honors students present their research at the annual conference of the Northeast Regional Honors Council in Annapolis, MD. The conference attracts more than 400 students and faculty from 68 colleges and universities.
The annual Earth Day Game Show is held. Established by students in the WILDE Club (Women in Lasting Defense of the Environment) a number of years ago, the goal is to get students to think and learn about the environment in a fun and entertaining way. Dr. Nick Smart, Associate Professor of English in the School of Arts & Sciences, serves as the game show host.

Dr. Constance Iervolino, Associate Professor of Education in the Graduate School, is the featured guest on the one-hour radio show Pathways to Learning sponsored by the NY Archdiocese.

Meri Weiss, Instructional Staff at the John Cardinal O’Connor Campus of the School of New Resources, publishes her first novel: Closer to Fine.

On May 5, a New York City Networking Breakfast for CNR alumnae/i is hosted by Jane Canner, Ph.D., SAS’72. Jane serves as the President of Classroom Inc. and speaks about Classroom Inc., a nonprofit that helps kids learn through real life computer-generated simulations.

CNR celebrates its 71st annual Alumnae/i College Reunion, honoring classes ending in 4s and 9s.

Dr. Elena Bront de Avila, New Rochelle Campus Director, makes a presentation at the Gordon Conference in Maine on “Developing Chemical Thinking: A Constructivist Approach.”

Dr. Stephen Sweeney, Dr. Ellen Curry-Damato, Dr. Dorothy Escibano, and Judith Huntington, with Board of Trustees member Anne Vitale, attend the fifth annual Rome Seminar of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities (ACCU). The seminar, “U.S. Catholic Higher Education in a Global Context,” explores the intellectual and spiritual legacy of the Catholic Church in order to strengthen and promote the mission of Catholic higher education in the United States.

The annual Strawberry Festival features a wealth of activities for all ages.

DEAR GRADUATES AND FRIENDS,

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, thank you for embracing Partners for Excellence, the College’s initiative to engage and connect each of you more closely to CNR. Although we instituted new giving societies as part of this initiative during one of the most challenging financial periods in our nation’s history, I am pleased to acknowledge your continued participation in events, your devoted service as volunteers, and your generous contributions—many at one of the new gift levels or in response to our successful Trustees Challenge.

Your financial support is especially critical during difficult times to ensure the College stays financially sound while it provides the full array of programs, exceptional faculty, and facilities essential to a CNR education.

We thank each of you who gave part of the $7.4 million raised in 2008-2009. Of this total, CNR received $3.2 million from 3,725 donors—our graduates of all four Schools, current and former faculty and staff, parents, friends, foundations, and corporations. An additional $4.9 million was received through government grants, including $4.2 million from New York State Higher Education Capital Matching Grant Program.

- Annual Fund unrestricted gifts totaled over $2 million, slightly ahead of 2008; CNR graduates gave $1.3 million of this total.
- 222 President’s Circle donors made leadership gifts of $1,500 or more to the Annual Fund; they gave over $1 million as part of the new President’s Circle giving societies.
- Estate gifts from our faithful alumnae provided $514,000.
- We celebrated the loyalty of more than 1,600 alumnae who have given every year for 10 or more consecutive years. Among them are 468 devoted graduates who have given every year for more than 20 years and within that group many for more than 30 years.

For the first time, the College is recognizing and celebrating its most generous donors for their lifetime giving through the new St. Angela’s Society and Mother Irene Gill Society, and its most loyal donors through the new Fidelis Society. We are especially grateful to each of these donors.

Special thanks to all who contributed to the Annual Fund for the first time, particularly our most recent graduates of the Class of 2009! More than half of our new donors to the Annual Fund continue to be graduates of the last decade and graduates of the School of New Resources.

Friends often ask me how I came to be involved with The College of New Rochelle. It was a “household word,” I often reply. The daughter of Mary Fischer Bell SAS’34 would certainly be aware of her mother’s alma mater! Even more than that, I feel that my involvement is a natural extension of my mother’s legacy to the College. Mom was dedicated to helping CNR students in any way possible. When I was asked to be a member of the Board of Trustees, I readily accepted. And, through my service as a Trustee, I have come to know what my mother knew so well: that CNR is making the world a better place; it is changing the lives of its students, finding and nurturing the gifts each has to offer. CNR provides individual attention and prepares well-educated women and men of conscience who, in turn, change their families and their communities, their workplaces and the nation.

As Trustees, we know the significance of your unwavering support, and we look forward to thanking you again in 2010 for another year of participation in the life of CNR—for the good of all CNR students.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth LeVaca
Chair, Development Committee, Board of Trustees

Our heartfelt appreciation is extended to each of the following donors to The Campaign for The College of New Rochelle. Donors to the Annual Fund are listed in the sections that follow.

The Campaign for The College of New Rochelle was implemented to strengthen financial resources in order for CNR to continue to fulfill its mission. Included in this Campaign, in addition to donations to The Wellness Center construction and programs, are gifts to restore Holy Family Chapel, to strengthen CNR’s Endowment Fund, and all gifts to the Annual Fund. There are still many naming opportunities available in The Wellness Center, and your continued support of this vital facility will be gratefully received.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR THE COLLEGE OF NEW ROCHELLE

2009 Annual Report / The College of New Rochelle
Starting July 1, 2008, as part of the Partners for Excellence initiative, new Annual Fund donor recognition gift societies replaced those that had been in effect for more than 40 years. In addition, three new donor societies were created to express our deep appreciation to our most generous donors and our most loyal donors through membership in the St. Angela Society, Mother Irene Gill Society and the Fidelis Society.

We thank all graduates and friends who are our partners for excellence, who so generously and consistently support the College, its mission and most importantly its students.

ST. ANGELA SOCIETY

With profound gratitude, we recognize donors whose cumulative lifetime giving to all funds totals $1 million or more.

St. Angela Merici was the foundress of the Ursuline Order. CNR was originally named the College of St. Angela in 1906 by its Ursuline foundresses. Over the past century, St. Angela’s history and legacy have been kept alive through the vitality of the College’s mission, and on campus in the naming of Angela Residence Hall, the celebration of the Feast of St. Angela annually in January, and in the bronze statue of St. Angela Merici on the New Rochelle campus.

MOTHER IRENE GILL SOCIETY

Donors whose cumulative lifetime giving to all funds totals $500,000-$999,999 are gratefully recognized here.

Mother Irene Gill (1860-1935) was a religious leader, academic administrator, and founder of The College of New Rochelle. Against the odds, she created the College of Saint Angela (the name changed in 1910 to The College of New Rochelle). Under her leadership, the College became the fifth Catholic women’s college in the country, the first in New York State and is now the largest Catholic college for women in the nation.

We deeply appreciate the following donors who have provided truly foundational support for the growth and development of The College of New Rochelle.

PARTNERS FOR EXCELLENCE GIFT SOCIETIES

THE PRESIDENT’S CIRCLE

ANNUAL FUND LEADERSHIP GIFT SOCIETY

Membership in one of The President’s Circle Gift Societies is granted to any donor whose unrestricted giving to the Annual Fund totals $1,500 or more between July 1 and June 30 each year. Matching gifts are included in the donor’s total gift.

Giving to the 2009 Annual Fund by members of The President’s Circle provided up to 70% of total Annual Fund support from individual donors. This group of leadership donors gave more than $1 million, unrestricted funds which are critical to the financial health of the College and provide for things not covered by tuition. Much of it goes to financial aid for our students.

With great appreciation, we thank the members of The President’s Circle and welcome them into one of the new societies.

ANNUAL FUND GIFT SOCIETIES

Gifts to the Annual Fund are used to meet the College’s greatest current needs—things not covered by tuition. Much of it goes to financial aid for our students. Giving to the Annual Fund is one direct way you can help the College and its students as a “partner for excellence.”

Your partnership at any level of giving will ensure the tradition of excellence in education that is the hallmark of CNR. We are particularly grateful to the members of our new donor recognition societies.

THANK YOU!
The College of New Rochelle thanks its many donors listed in this report who have made contributions between July 1, 2008 and June 30, 2009. If we have inadvertently misspelled your name or if your name has been omitted, please accept our apologies and call The Office of College Advancement, at 800-474-4232 so the correction can be made to our records. Or you can email us at makeagift@cnr.edu.

Fidelis Society

Fidelis: Latin for Faithful
St. Angela Merici counsels us to “Carry on steadfastly and faithfully the work you have undertaken.” —Introduction to the Counsels

For the first time, The College of New Rochelle proudly recognizes its faithful donors who have contributed to one of the College’s funds every year for the last nine out of 10 years, or more.

(In the spirit of fairness, we include those whose records are unbroken, save one year in the past ten.) Membership in the Fidelis Society is renewed with each subsequent year of continued support.

Founding Members
The following group of dedicated and committed alumnae/i and friends ensure CNR’s continued success. We are ever grateful to these founding members because they raise the bar high and set an example for others through their loyal giving.

Lifetime Members
We also recognize a very special group within the Fidelis Society who have given every year for 20 years or more. We celebrate them with lifetime membership in the Fidelis Society. They are noted in this report by a special symbol (†).

Note: The Fidelis Society was created as part of the Partners for Excellence campaign launched in 2008. Every effort is made to accurately identify and list all Fidelis Society members. If you believe we have overlooked you, please contact the Office of Annual Giving at 1-800-474-4232.

THANK YOU!
The College of New Rochelle thanks its many donors listed in this report who have made contributions between July 1, 2008 and June 30, 2009. If we have inadvertently misspelled your name or if your name has been omitted, please accept our apologies and call The Office of College Advancement, at 800-474-4232 so the correction can be made to our records. Or you can email us at makeagift@cnr.edu.
2009 SENIOR CLASS GIVING

We are very grateful to the following alumnae/i, Class of 2009, who made their first gift to the Annual Fund during their senior year. We thank them for taking the lead in giving, and hope their example will encourage others in their class to support their Alma Mater each year as well.

Thank you!
The College of New Rochelle thanks its many donors listed in this report who have made contributions between July 1, 2008 and June 30, 2009. If we have inadvertently misspelled your name or if your name has been omitted, please accept our apologies and call The Office of College Advancement, at 800-474-4232 so the correction can be made to our records. Or you can email us at makeagift@cnr.edu.
SCHOOL OF NEW RESOURCES

The College’s alumnae/i are among its most important assets, for it is their support each year that makes new programs, equipment, scholarships and financial aid, including the SNR Retention Fund, possible. The College is grateful for the generosity and loyalty of its many School of New Resources alumnae/i donors.

The College also wishes to recognize by campus those members of the 2009 senior class who made their first gift to the College’s Annual Fund while still students. We celebrate them for beginning their status as alumnae/i in this special way.

ALUMNAE/I GIFTS
In addition to gifts to the Annual Fund, the generosity of our alumnae/i and friends is expressed through other kinds of gifts to the College: gifts in memory or in honor of an alumna or alumnus, faculty, family member or friend; restricted gifts for special purposes or programs; gifts in-kind; endowed gifts, estate gifts and contributions through the Golf and Tennis Outing. Corporate matching gifts provide an additional significant source of revenue. We are ever grateful to our donors who take advantage of them to benefit the College.

Local and federal government, along with corporations and foundations support the College as well, providing funding for new initiatives and ongoing programs. We are ever grateful to them.

Dedicated, hardworking and visionary people have brought The College of New Rochelle through a century of excellence in education. For the College to continue as a vibrant, thriving institution, it is those whose generosity is identified in this report who will allow us to realize our hopes and aspirations for the future through their presence, wisdom and partnership. Our alumnae/i and students are living examples of the mission of CNR and it is your investment in CNR that will ensure all students will have access to wisdom for life.
